

An RPG landed 3 feet from me

Tim: I was in Vietnam just under six months and had an RPG land about 3 feet away from me and was wounded and spent several weeks on a hospital ship and other hospitals. And first RPG that I saw anyway was coming right at me and fortunately I was just about to jump over the side of a bunker and it landed right in front and splattered me up my whole right side with shrapnel. So, I was wounded in the right leg, in the head, the hand and in the stomach. And we got plastered pretty good.
